

Do you know what the Internet is costing your business?

For businesses too small to have their own IT department on site, the costs of running and maintaining a secure business internet network can be considerable.

The solution is NetAssure, an integrated system of hardware and software components designed to work together to provide firewall, web filtering, email sanitization and detailed reporting features into a single service. This can save a lot of start-up costs and installation hassles, as well as the ongoing maintenance and configuration burdens of all these individual components.

NetAssure is based on a monthly subscription model with a flexible pricing structure that meets small to medium sized business budgets and with no upfront costs involved. NetAssure is an essential solution to connect, protect and control your business.
